

Morning Light

A Song For Dawn

Lady Mercy Goldvein

♩ = 80

Verse 1: Soprano and Tenor

Verse 2: Tutti

Soloist

S
A

T
B

In the light of mist-y mor-n-ing, When the dark has all but fled. When the
When the flowers are sweet-ly blo-o-ming in the glor-ious rays of morn. I will ooo - - - -

ooo

6

en - em-y's been van-qui-shed and the blood has all been shed So let us fight for our to-call to you my swe-et-ness, I will meet you in the Dawn. So let us fight for our to-

Fi -

11

-mor-rows, to see each love - ly new sun - rise ov - er love filled fields of ro ses. For our
-mor-rows, to see each love - ly new sun - rise ov - er love filled fields of ro - ses. For our
-ght For Da - wn ov - er love filled fields of ro - ses Fo - r

16

Dawn, my love arise. I will wreath your brow in flowers, each a perfect golden And one day, when you find glory, and your quest is all but love, arise.

21

rose done so you may wear them on your journey, and with each step our love will grow. So let us we may ay in fields of flowers, bask-ing in the shin-ing sun.

26

fight for our to-mor-rows, to see each love-ly new sun-rise ov-er love filled fields of fight for our to-mor-rows, to see each love-ly new sun-rise ov-er love filled fields of Fi - ght For Da - wn ov-er love filled fields of 31 rit.

ro - ses. For our Dawn, my love ar - ise.

ro - ses. For our Dawn, my love ar - ise.

ro - ses Fo - r love, ar - ise